

RACI Chemistry Educator of the Year Award

This award is designed to encourage developing teachers, and is open to tutors, lecturers and senior lecturers (academic levels A, B and C) teaching in undergraduate or postgraduate university courses.

The winner will be required to submit an article for publication in the RACI journal "Chemistry in Australia" on his/her contribution to chemistry teaching.

Applications open in April and close mid-June annually. The applicant is required to be a current RACI member for a minimum of 3 years and currently employed within an Australian University. The application should include:

- A current CV.
- A statement of your overall approach to teaching and learning plus information and examples from your practice that illustrate and support your approach.
- Email and telephone contacts of no more than four referees.

Applications/Nominations to be emailed to awards@raci.org.au no later than mid-June annually. Receipt of the documents will be acknowledged by return email.

After the closing date, no further applications for the award will be accepted. If in the opinion of the Board there is no candidate who has sufficient merit, the Board may refrain from making an award.

The decision of the judges will be subject to the approval of the RACI Board. The Board decision is final and no discussions or correspondence will be entered into.
